INT. CRYSTAL DUNGEON BOSS ROOM

The BOSS DOOR shuts behind PEERO causing him to jump like he has every time he has entered through a BOSS DOOR before. This time however the arena is quiet and only the sound of water dripping from the bioluminescent stalactites can be heard. PEERO squints his eyes, bends his knees and cautiously gives the cave a panoramic look over. TAMZIN pops up from underneath PEERO's pointy hat.

TAMZIN

Look there it is, the CRYSTAL EMBLEM! The Last one.

The CRYSTAL EMBLEM is seen sparkling on a pedestal in a hollow at the back of the room. PEERO is about to charge at it when TAMZIN wrangles him to a halt by pulling on his hair.

TAMZIN

Hold on there kid, it's never that easy.
There's gotta be a monster in here, I'm sure of it. All the other dungeons had one. BEAT. You hear that dripping sound? I bet the beast is on the roof!

PEERO looks up where TAMZIN is pointing on the ceiling but there is nothing.

TAMZIN

Hmm. BEAT. Gods can it be? We are standing right on top of it!

PEERO takes a quick step back and looks down, but again there is nothing.

TAMZIN

Huh. BEAT. Maybe it died of boredom waiting for someone as dense as you to come along. Oh well, my luck! Last one there is a brainless twerp.

TAMZIN Jumps off of PEERO's face and hops at breakneck speed to the top of the CRYSTAL EMBLEM. PEERO stares out with that thousand yard stare of his.

TAMZIN

I did it... We did it! Once we unite this one with the others, that sage can make me human again. Then nothing's gonna stop us from saving your sister. Come on you dope, grab this thing and let's find a way out of here out here.

CHOMP! The hollow closes in on TAMZIN revealing the back of the cave to actually have been the mouth of the DUNGEON BOSS, "GEM-DRAKE the CAVE WURM". The Beast slithers out from the back wall and flings its head back, gulping TAMZIN down. PEERO bounces up and down, panicking until he hears a small thudding sound. TAMZIN can be seen in the transparent crystal belly of the beast yelling and hitting her little hands against the glass-like stomach walls. She then hops up in pain and looks at her smoldering webbed foot. Acid is beginning to slowly pour into the monster's gut.

The CAMERA returns to its regular third person position behind PEERO as the cinematic ends, control is given back to the player and the boss fight begins with a ROAR from "GEM-DRAKE the CAVE WURM".
